Red Cross Donor Clinic July 2

During 1952, 18,869 people in Alberta received 27,777 bottles of blood; 952 people in Alberta received 1,768 bottles of plasma. They received this free, without any charge whatsoever, delivered to them anywhere in their hour of need. This gift came to them from an unknown donor, and the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service.

A farm accident last fall created the need for 30 bottles—a high-way accident the day after Christmas required 21 bottles immediately, and more later. The recent blast at Turner Valley called for the equivalent of nearly 200 bottles. Not one call for blood went unanswered; the blood was despatched promptly at all hours of the day and night, and with a sterile transfusion set, ready for immediate use.

The generosity of donors, of voluntary workers and subscribers to the Red Cross campaign have made this great service to all our fellow-citizens possible. If you or your loved ones should need this service unexpectedly, you will rely on some unknown donor to have made their gift available.

Your donation of blood, on hand, will help someone back on the road to normal health, for having blood available, ready at all times to meet any emergency, has helped save many lives.

Your presence at the Blood Donor Clinic in the Evangelical Church hall here on Thursday, July 2, is very important to someone—it will be your opportunity to make your contribution.

The clinic will be held from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. and new donors may sign registration forms at Reiber Brothers office. Appointment cards will be mailed but if donor is unable to appear at time given, he will be accepted at any time during clinic hours.

MASSEY-HARRIS COMBINES TURN CIRCLES on a HILLSIDE

to test features that help you do your work better, quicker and at less cost.

To get work done, farming now relies largely upon mechanical equipment. Manpower is scarce and costly and mechanization has been the answer to the farm help problem. Never before has it been possible for a man to do so much, so easily, and so quickly as it is today with up-to-date tractors and power equipment.

That Massey-Harris machines may offer the latest features and advantages in design and construction, research engineers test them by modern stress analysis devices and days and days of operation on the Massey-Harris test track—the first modern full-scale test track for power farming machinery.

Winning Essay Written By District Youth On Safety

Reprinted below is a winning essay in the recent Alberta Safety Council competition, written by Gail Phillips, Grade 7, of Rosebud school. Teacher, W. E. Blore.

IT HAPPENED ON THE FARM

"Say, Tully, speaking of the tractor, you can take the plow over to the northeast pasture and start breaking it tomorrow. I'd like to use it this year," said his father as he pushed his chair back from the supper table.

"Okay, Dad," replied Tully. He was nineteen years of age, 150 pounds of rippling muscle and as splendidly proportioned a physical specimen as ever graced a Hollywood stage. At least, that's what Hazel O'Hara thought who lived a mile down the road. She was proud of Tully and so were his parents.

"Come on, Tully," called his father, the next morning. "I want you to try and finish that field today."

"Coming, Dad," Tully answered. He could smell the delicious breakfast his mother had prepared. He had to have a good meal to keep him going until noon when he would be at O'Hara's for dinner.

As he left the house to fill the tractor with water, his friend, Jerry O'Hara, Hazel's bother, came into the yard.

"Need some help?" he shouted, as he came up. "Your father phoned me last night to see if I could come down and help you."

"Sure, Jerry, come on. Dad wants that field finished by the time he gets home tonight."

Tully and Jerry took turns driving the tractor. It was Tully's turn to drive. He was finishing the field which ended on a steep side hill, but he thought he could make it. He knew he was taking a chance. He did not see the boulder that had rolled into the furrow on the last round. Jerry hadn't noticed it, either. The tractor roared steadily on toward the rock. Striking the rock with the rear wheel, Tully was thrown off balance and the tractor rolled over on its side, pinning Tully underneath it. Jerry screamed in horror as he saw what had happened. He raced to his chum, but saw at a glance he could do nothing. He raced home, where he gave his father a quick outline of what had happened. Mr. O'Hara took his tractor to lift the other tractor off Tully.

Jerry went to phone the doctor and report the accident. An hour later the doctor arrived only to confirm what they knew to be true. Tully was dead.

"Where are his parents?" the doctor asked.

"They are in Calgary," replied Jerry with tears in his eyes. "You'd better go home, Jerry," said Mr. O'Hara calmly. "I'll stay here till Bill and Peggy get home."

At five o'clock Tully's parents drove into the yard. Seeing the tractor they thought Tully was finished. Then they saw their friend, Joe O'Hara coming out of the house.

"Hello, Joe," they both said together.

"Hello Bill and Peggy, I'm afraid I have bad news for you," said Joe. "Tully was plowing that sidehill this afternoon and met with an accident. The tractor overturned crushing him. Dr. Jackson came, but could do nothing. Tully was dead."

Bill and Peggy looked at Joe, but said nothing. Suddenly, Peggy burst into tears. Her grief was uncontrolled.

"Bill, Jerry and I will look after your chores," said Joe, sadly, as he turned away, not to see Bill's sorrow as he tried to comfort his wife.

"Tully Martin could have prevented this accident by not taking a chance and by watching the furrow more closely. He could have gone up and down or left the hill unploughed. Accidents like this can be prevented."

Today is not yesterday. We ourselves change. How can our works and thoughts if they are always to be the fittest, continue always the same? Change, indeed, is painful, yet ever needful; and if memory has its force and worth, so also has hope. —Thomas Carlyle

Notes From D.A.

By Hugh McPhail

During the last four years I have distributed well over 100 lots of seed for demonstration pastures. These are distributed well over the district which we serve. I have also distributed some registered seed for seed production. All these have been given out at a special price for demonstrations.

An interesting demonstration to show the alkali resistance of different grasses was put down on Arthur St. Clair's farm. Tail Wheat Grass is supposed to be quite alkali-resistant. In order to compare it with other grasses the following grasses and legumes were seeded in plots close together:

Creeping Red Fescue, Crested Wheat Grass, Alfalfa, Slender Wheat Grass, White Blossom Sweet Clover, Tail Wheat Grass, Timothy, Bromes.

These plots are a quarter of a mile east of Mr. St. Clair's house on the north side of the road. If you are near these plots be sure to take a look at them.

Because of a new strain of stem rust 15B, a new variety of wheat resistant to it, has been developed and is being multiplied by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. In California and Arizona 150 acres were seeded last fall. Enough seed was produced this spring to seed 3000 acres in Canada. The variety goes under a number at present, C.T. 188.

THE ANSWER

Karl Marx did not have the answer... he lifted no burdens from human backs. The answer is not in class struggle. The answer is in competitive free enterprise. The answer is in the co-operation of investor and investor; in the co-operation of the manager and the worker with his know-how. The answer is to substitute slaves of iron and steel for the strength of human backs. The answer is in constitutional liberty, which sets man free and says that what any man honestly makes is his "to have and to hold."

THE PEOPLE LIKE BEEF

The trend of the beef market and the volume passing over the blocks in domestic butcher shops since the prices dropped to their present level, indicate that the Canadian people really prefer beef as their main meat course. It was economically impossible for many people, especially those with large families, to buy beef when prices were at their peak.

Buyer resistance finally wore the market down to the present level. If you read some current articles you will be amazed to find that years ago it was not unusual to keep steers and spayed heifers on the ranch till they were four to six years old. That was really prime red meat, when a T-bone steak would fill a big platter . . . and more than fill the average man.

The beef today goes to market under two years of age. Today's beef is good 'beef, but perhaps lacks some of the depth of flavor found in the mature animals which were properly finished. The old-time demand was for red meat interlaced by delicate fats, but now excess fats are frowned upon. The turn to beef does not necessarily mean that pork has been overlooked by the Canadian housewife. The Canadian people are simply eating more beef, and liking it.

Seasonal: The little boy peeked over the edge of the stationery counter at the ten-cent store and asked hopefully: "Have you any blank report cards?"

The average family in the United States with an income of about $300 a month will spend $1,000 a year for food. In 1953 the farmer will receive about $460 of this and the remaining $540 will go for processing and distribution.

Through The Study Window

Rev. C. C. Armstrong

Rev. Elliott Birdall, no stranger to this district, tells of witnessing an unusually bad traffic jam, and for a time not a car could move. One impatient motorist honked his horn continually, and at length, finally the motorist in front of him climbed out of his own stalled car and came back to the noisy one.

"Your horn is working," he told the horn-blower. "Now try your lights."

The function of the church is not to make its presence known by blowing its horn, but by giving light, light which illuminates at the same time that it remains silent. Jesus said "let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in Heaven." Much of the best work of the church is done in silence, but not always.

Our summer camps are not exactly silent and quiet places at all times, but they do have their moments of silence, of worship, or reality of worship. For those who promote them, this is one of the chief reasons for having them.

Summer camps, on more than one occasion, have helped young people come to know each other better; know the ministerial leaders better, and know the Christian life better. We promote summer camps not to give the children something to do, but because here is something worthwhile that we can do for children. Because this is our belief, we don't want to be silent about the opportunities of camps. It is not too late to register. Here are the particulars:

Camp registrars: Mrs. H. B. Thackeray, Bentley, Alberta. Boys' camp (12 and over) at Kasota van Lake, June 30-July 8; girls' camp (12 and under) at Kasota, Sylvan Lake, July 8-July 18; girls' camp (12 and over) at Gull Lake, July 2-July 11; boys' camp (9-11) at Gull Lake, July 11-July 18; girls' camp (9-11 years) at Gull Lake, July 11-July 18.

Registration forms are available through your local minister. Camp costs are about $1.25 per camper per day. The cost is small and the camp period profitable.

TO ORGANIZE ORCHESTRA AT CARSTAIRS

Plans are being made to organize an orchestra in the town of Carstairs this fall. In order to give students the opportunity to learn to play their instruments well, Mr. Hopkins, of Hopkins School of Music, Calgary, has agreed to come to Carstairs one or two days a week to give lessons. However, this will depend on the number of students ready to take instruction. In order to begin classes in September it is necessary to know before July how many students intend to take advantage of this rare opportunity because music and instruments must be ordered well in advance.

If you do not own an instrument, special arrangements can be made whereby you may purchase one through the school at a fifteen per cent discount and pay for it with a one-third down payment and small weekly payments without interest. The class lesson fee, plus payment for instrument, would be approximately $2.00.

If you wish further information contact A. W. Reiber at 80, Didsbury.

Agricultural SERVICE BOARD NOTES

W.K. Snyder,
Field Supervisor

Broad jet sprayers versus boom sprayers: There is considerable controversy over the relative merits of these two types of sprayers. It is impossible to cover this subject thoroughly in a short letter. I will, however, attempt to point out a few things based on observation and experience. Single nozzle applications must resort to large droplet sprays to attain reasonably wide swaths.

This defeats the purpose of a close knit pattern which is so desirable where so little fluid is applied over a large area. Since large droplets are required to attain carrying distance it naturally follows that chemical contained in large droplets will confine a greater acid concentration to a smaller area than if the same droplet were broken up into smaller particles and distributed over a larger area.

Sprays expended into the air are affected to a large extent by the wind and the possibility of a constant pattern is greatly reduced. Changing wind velocities will constantly change width of coverage and make uniform coverage virtually impossible. There are some farmers who have both types of sprayers.

The broad jet they use on fence lines, roadsides and small brush. The boom type they use to spray field crops. Undoubtedly there is a place to use both types of machines.

Sodium Chlorate and Poison: Be careful if you sprinkle this weed killer around your buildings. Chickens may follow you up and pick up the little grains of chlorate. Don't let this happen to you, as the results may be disastrous to the chickens.

If you must sprinkle this around the buildings be sure and water it down with the garden hose or sprinkling can. There is no further danger after the chlorate has been dissolved.

CANADA PREPARES TO DEAL WITH DISASTER

WHAT YOU CAN DO ABOUT THOSE ATOM BOMBS

Your life may depend upon how you act if your community undergoes air attack, according to federal civil defence authorities. In their popular handbook, "Personal Protection under Atomic Attack," the experts give some basic rules for action before, during and after a raid, and it boils down to knowing what to do and how to do it.

The information in the preparedness manual is related to other material issued by Ottawa for distribution through the provinces and municipalities to all Canadians in the hope that, being forewarned, they will escape death or serious injury even under assault by the most modern war weapons. For, say the authorities, there are ways of protecting yourself and, if they possess trained and equipped emergency services, whole communities can minimize the effects of disaster, whether enemy-inspired or of such natural occurrence as fire, flood, quake or explosion.

WITH WARNING
When an air raid warning sounds you may expect at least five minutes grace before disaster strikes, if the raid takes place. If you are near enough to a public shelter, go there quickly. If you don't think you can make it, hurry to any nearby cover, such as a large building. Don't rush — speed is essential but undue haste could cause panic.

In the shelter, lie down flat near an outer wall or strong column. Press your face into folded arms, to protect your eyes. Don't leave the shelter until you know it is safe to do so.

If you are driving, park well off the road, so as not to impede disaster services, then go to shelter.

Inside, go with your family or fellow workers to a shelter, if one has been provided, or duck under a table, bed or bench. If there is time, close and shutter windows. Anyway, keep away from glass, which will most certainly be shattered in a blast. Other details on what to do will be found in the government manual which, if you are a civil defence worker, will be given to you by the local Civil Defence services and which anyway, you can purchase at nominal cost a bookeller's.

WITHOUT WARNING

If there is a sudden flash and you are caught outdoors, throw yourself down — anywhere, even if in the gutter. Drop close to a big building if you are near one. If you are driving, stop as safely as you can, turn off the engine and drop to the floor of the vehicle. Keep your face down and cover over your head, even if only with your arms.

IN INSTITUTIONS

Special instructions have been issued by provincial and local authorities to such institutions as schools, on what to do in an emergency. Schools will be particularly safe places under air attack. Most of them are strongly built and have extensive protected lower areas. Teachers will know how to shepherd pupils to safety if there is warning and will have rehearsed the children in dropping under desks and covering up, if there is no time to reach a shelter.

Big firms like department stores, hotels, etc., have co-operated with civil defence authorities in planning what to do in an emergency. They will try to shelter transients who rush in off the street for cover, as well as provide for their own staffs and patrons.

AFTER A RAID

Official publications like "Personal Protection under Atomic Attack" advise against rushing outside immediately after a raid. There may be lingering radioactivity about and there is always danger from collapsing buildings, exposed wires, etc. Even if you are caught outside when the blow comes, it is wise, say the experts, to "stay put" for awhile, until you are sure that danger is past and you may move safely.

There is also special advice from the civil defence experts concerning use of food and water and of public utilities, such as electrical and plumbing fixtures, after a raid. It is all contained in the pocket-sized manual, which is available to all.

Perhaps the most important advice in the government's preparedness booklets deals with measures to be taken to prepare the home, the office or the factory against a blast. The books contain detail on the construction of air raid shelters, such as one may construct in the ordinary basement or in the back yard.

NEW BUG TRAP

A new electric vaporizer is the latest thing in bug destruction. It is plugged into an electrical outlet. A 15-watt bulb heats the insecticide and releases an odorless, invisible insect-killing vapor that settles on walls, ceiling, furniture. Can be used as a night light.

WEDDINGS

BRIGHTMAN — MAILER

A quiet but pretty double ring wedding was solemnized on June 18 at 2:30 p.m. at the bride's grandmother's home, Mrs. P. Murphy of Didsbury, when Evelyn valetta Mailer, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mailer of Cremona, was united in marriage to Mr. Marvin Carl Brightman of the R.C.N. serving at Esquimalt, B.C. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brightman, formerly of Didsbury. Rev. H. L.
James, Baptist minister of Olanguaticated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a grey suit with white accessories, and carried a corsage of Sweetheart roses arranged on a white ribbon.

Miss Fay Goucher of Calgary was bridesmaid, wearing a beige suit with white accessories, her corsage being of white carnations.
The groom was attended by Mr.
Eugene Mailer, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs.
Ester Weidner, aunt of the bride.
The bride's table looked lovely with mauve and white streamers and bouquets of Lily of the Valley and lilacs.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a short honeymoon.

CROP REPORT

The Alberta Wheat Pool crop report of June 13 showed that Southern Alberta had received moisture in abundance, while rainfall has been rather skimpy over the north.
Normally, there is a lag in the movement of rainfall to the north and more precipitation there can reasonably be expected later on.

The rainfall in the south, particularly along the foothills from above Crossfield south to the border has cut the wheat acreage and delayed the seeding of oats and barley. Along the foothills, as aforementioned, the total reduction may be as much as 300,000 acres.

The dry portion of Alberta this spring lies east and north of a line running from Athabasca through Edmonton to Provost. In the Peace River region there is every prospect of a good crop.

There is one thing for sure, namely that this crop is late and a long frost-free period is much to be desired. The average height of wheat as at last weekend was given by the Alberta Wheat Pool at four inches as compared with seven inches at the same time last year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christian Science" is the title of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science churches on Sunday, and these are some of the inspiring passages from the Bible: "And when he called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of diseases." (Matt. 10:1)
And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science, understood, coincides with the Scriptures, and sustains logically and demonstratively every point it presents. Otherwise it would not be Science, and could not present its proofs. It presents the calm and clear verdict of truth against error, uttered and illustrated by the prophets, by Jesus, by his apostles as is recorded throughout the Scriptures" (358:
9 - 13 and 15 - 18).

REID THOMPSON WINS
SAFETY ESSAY COMPETITION

Following is an essay written by Reid Thompson, Grade 5, in the Alberta Safety Council competition:

The tractor is the most dangerous machine on the farm. I am going to write about a tractor accident that happened in our district.

One day Mr. Cross decided that he would do some grinding so he got on the tractor and pushed the starter, but nothing happened.
So he got off and started to crank
it. He pushed down on the crank and the engine turned over and the crank kicked.

The cause was that Mr. Cross pushed down on the crank and the engine turned over and the crank kicked.

The result was that Mr. Cross was rushed to the local hospital with an arm broken in two places. When he got there they couldn't do anything for him so he was rushed to a Calgary hospital. He was in the Calgary hospital for two months.

He can still feel it now, which is more than a year after the accident happened. One of his sons had to come home to help with the work.

This should be a lesson to everybody. When cranking an engine you should be very careful. So, when cranking engines, please do make safety a habit.

OPPORTUNITY, NOT SECURITY

Today's college graduate doesn't give two hoots about security. He hardly ever asks about pension plans when he looks for a job. It's opportunity he's after, says a university placement officer. A representative who interviewed 1500 applicants this year, said "only about five were concerned over pension plans and holidays instead of the kind of job they could do."

A report on employment conditions in a large Canadian centre makes this significant observation:

"In one large city, with a building program of considerable magnitude, the only skilled mechanics available in the construction trades were the upper age brackets. There were only three bricklayers available for employment, all of whom were over 70 years of age and one being over 75. The only plasterer available was over 80. All painters except one were over 64 years of age. The one exception had an arthritic condition in the hips and hands."

If any further proof were needed of a shortage of people in this underdeveloped country we surely have it here. It's not a question of wages. The rates now being paid in the construction trades in Canada are among the highest in the world.

The real trouble is lack of people. We can get these people from Europe but we won't get them unless we open our doors a lot wider than they are now and keep them open. It will be absurd and suicidal for us to keep the clamps down tight on immigration until the last native artisan dies of old age.

At Mt. View W.I.

The regular meeting of Mountain View W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Otto Bittner on Thursday, June 18, with nine members and eight visitors present.

Minutes of the April meeting, the special meeting and May report were given. Lack of members in attendance prevented a May meeting. Dr. Rawlins was present at this meeting and gave a report of the work of the Mountain View Health Unit, after which a discussion was held.

The Didsbury conference report was given by the delegate, Mrs. David Pratt.

Mrs. Ed Stiles was delegate at the Edmonton provincial biennial convention and gave a very interesting report. New books are out, entitled "Conducting the W.I. Branch Meetings," and these are to be studied.

Mrs. Charles Snyder is to be delegate to Farm Women's Week at Olds in July.

Mountain View was lucky in having their candidate, Myron Gebers, local institute member's son, drawn to attend Farm Young People's Week in Edmonton, sponsored by the Alberta Wheat Pool.

The W.I. presented Myron with a $10.00 cheque. Films and his report are being tabled until fall.

Mrs. Walter Pratt gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on mixes. This was followed up by waffles made from the mix and the lovely lunch served by the hostess.

Mr. H. J. Sawatzky, Carstairs and Mr. Ray Teynor, Elkton, were the lucky fathers who received Stelson hats at Berscht's. Dr. Bpp attended both births on Father's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Nell Beaton and family of Delta spent the weekend at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Price.
